

Identify the two ends of the continuum. Use the boxes to label them. Then move incrementally between the two identifying the “in between” places. Use the space underneath the continuum to write a short comment about each newly identified place.

